2.1 2024-08-20 - An unruly daughter

2.2 Stylistic devices

In line 194 - 201 („I frown upon him, yet he loves me still“ - „None, but your beauty: would that fault were mine“)

Paralism, Repitition

Effect: They point out a Dilemma

„The more I hate, the more he follows me“

„The more I love, the more he hateth me“

Anaphora - Two sentences start with the same Word

Helena: „O that“, „O that“

„The more I hate, ...“, „The more I love, ...“

Stichomythia¹

„The more I love, [...] The more I hate, [...]“

Answer rhyme or same word (last word)

2.3 Effecto on the reader

Stylistic device	Effect on the reader
Antithesis	illustrates difference between Helena and Hermia
Stichomythia	character dynamics, relationships that Hermia and Helena re involved in
Q.&A. / rhymes	Connection between Hermia nd Helena and their feelings

¹ Fast-paced back-and-forth dialog

2.4 Analyze the means used to characterize

- Antithesis > Helena's despration (l. 199: „The more I love, the more he hateth me“)
- Hermia being portrayed as a „bitch“ (l. 194: „the more I love...“)
- Helena looking up to Hermia (l. 195, l. 197) but also being jealous of her

2.5 2024-08-29 - Stagestruck [beyond the text]

2.6 All other Acotre + quince

Task:

- How do they look
 - How do they act
 - How do they speak
- Alle „wuseln“ durcheinander
 - Kleidung zeigt starkt die „art“ an
 - angestellte
 - Köche
 - etc
 - They barely speak
 - simple dressed, the other stand out

2.7 2024-09-10 - Trouble in Faryland (II, 1, 60-176)

Task:

Read ll. 81-117 of the scene. In her speech, Titania lsits changes in nature caused by her and Oberon's quarreling.

Change in Nature	Main point(s) / consequences
Wind	produces contagious fogs and rain, which makes the rivers overflow and drown crops and harvest
Water	Leads to muddy ground without pathways on which people walk and dance
Moon	because of angry moon, it produces rain which leads to diseases
Seasons	markers are distorted, alternate more intensely

2.8 2024-09-17 - Fool for love (II, 1, 176-268)

McGuffin

is an object, device, or event that is necessary to the plot and the motivation of the characters, but insignificant, unimportant, or irrelevant in itself.

Example:

The money in the movie „Psycho“

Correct the mistakes in the following sentences:

- Oberon is planning to send a forest animal to attack Titania.
 - No, he is going to „drop the liqueur of it in her eyes“ (178), so she is going to fall in love with the forest animal.
- Demetrius regrets that he cannot love Helena in return
 - D. does not regret loving Helena in return.
- Helena is worried that Demetrius might harm her.
 - H. is not worried that D. might harm her.
- Oberon plans to smear Demetrius's eyes with love

2.9 A Duologue

Apply what is said in the video about shared language, questions and answers as well as names and statues to your reading of Demetrius' and Helena's duologue (ll. 188-244)
Illustrate your findings with several examples.

2.10 Video notes:

- Two people on stage talking with each other
- Any interaction between two characters, what to look out for
 - shared language
 - ★ repetition
 - questions and answers
 - Status
 - ★ which characters is controlling the story

2.11 Examples:

2.12 Shared language

- Demetrius - „For I am sick when I do look on you.“; Helena: „And I am sick when I look not on you.“ (l. 211-212)
 - wdh. reversal

2.13 Questions and Answers

You vs thee/thou

You is a more formal form (de. ‚Sie‘), while thou (‚thee‘ is subject and ‚thou‘ is object) is more informal (de. „Du“)

- D. asks some (rhetorical) questions but H. does not always pick them up (ll. 189, 199-201).
- D. avoiding questions shows how little he's interested in / cares for H.

2.14 Status

- H.'s will to be hi ‚dog‘ (ll. 203, 210), she puts herself below D.,
- D. never uses her name, H. does use his name though (ll. 203, 239)
- H.'s speeches are much longer than D.'s.
- H. ignoring his commands causes her to climb the status ladder

2.15 Analysis

On page 46

Analyze the imagery used in Oberon's description of Titania's resting place and his plan of action.

Point out the effect which is created (ll. 248 - 258)

2.15.1 Analysis of Imagery

- Natural Imagery: Oberon describes Titania's resting place using rich and delicate natural imagery. Words like "wild thyme," "oxlips," "violet," and "musk-roses" create a harmless and beautiful surrounding.
- Sensoring: To describe the resting place Oberon not only uses Visual markers, but also other sensorign Impressions, like smell "sweet musk-roses." or taste.

In Act II, Scene 1 of A Midsummer Night's Dream, lines 248-258, Oberon delivers a speech that serves a dual purpose: it both describes Titania's resting place and outlines his intention to enchant her. In this speech Shakespeare heavily relies on using imagery, contrast to deepen the audience's understanding of characters and themes in the play. Oberon's language and imagery is also used to setting up a twist that shifts the tone from peaceful to manipulative and dark.

The speech begins with a detailed description of Titania's resting place in the woods. This speech evokes an image of a idyllic, safe, and almost magical location.

In order to achieve that, Oberon uses a lot of nature connected words and points of all the flowers surrounding the place like "violet", "woodbine", "musk-roses" or "eglantine". Flowers represent the joy of life and the beauty of nature. Given that they surround the place amplified the bond with nature.

Also, Oberon creates an image of safety and comfort while talking about Titianas resting place. For an example that Titiana is lulled in flowers (l. 254) within her over-canopied bank (l. 249-251). This supports the twist between the evil and the comforting place in his speech.

In contrast to the beautiful nature mentioned, Oberon still has an evil plan going on. For an instance he wants to use the magical flower to give Titania hateful and torturing imaginations (l. 258). This causes a contrast between how Oberon illustrates Titianas lovely and cute living space which makes her feel safe and secure while still continueing his evil plan to make her fall in love with a forest animal.

The Twist: starts with the snake¹

¹Snakes are venomous, so evil

1. A snake that is throwing of her skin, is changeging. This also stands for the twist and the change of tone in the text
2. The snake stands for oberon, planing behind titanias back

Tasks:

- Think:* about your personal reaction to the way Helena pleads with Demetrius
- Pair:* with a partner, exchange your ideas from a. and find reasons why she might behave like she does.
- Share:* your findings with the class.

Answers:

- Being annoyed, take of at some place. Being mad at Demetrius

2.17 2024-10-24 Scene 2

- Divide the dialogue into sense which match the headings in the table below.
- Number the headings in the correct order and add the line numbers on the right

Heading	Order	Line(s)
A. Mission accomplished	4	66 - 83
B. A nightmare come true	6	145 - 156
C. A little nightmusic	1	0 - 26
D. Single beds	3	35 - 65
E. A man transformed	5	84 - 144
F. A wicked spell	2	27 - 34

2.17.1 Pucks Speech 66 - 83

- Tetrameter
 - faster than Pentameter
- Poem like
 - Contrast between real and magic world
- It rhymes
- Trochee

Analysis

In Pucks speech, in Scene two of act two, from "A Midsummernight's dream" by Shakespeare, Pucks speaks about how he does not now who the "Athenian" is. By using a different meter, a poem structure and also utilizing a different metrical foot, Shakespeare, or Pucks, creates a contrast between the magical world, where Pucks lives, and the „real“ World.

2.20.1 Compare

Compare Titanisa's declaration of love to Bottom with Helena's to Demetrius (II, 1, 195-244)

Titania	Helena
• very Positive • "filled" with love • Bottom first argues against the love (you should have little reason) • Titania ordes the other fairies to come after Bottom's wishes • seems healthy relationship	• feels quite toxic – desire Demetrius so badly that she's willing to subjugate herself completely – would sacrifice her own well-being • Demetrius hates Helena
